LOWER FREIGHT RATE FOR HORSES?

Possibility of a lower freight rate on horses shipped to market for early slaughter is encouraging, according to a letter received from the United States railway administration by Secretary of State Stewart of Montana. Mr. Stewart had forwarded copies of the memorial adopted at the special legislative assembly urging the establishment of the rate. There are said to be 500,000 range horses in Montana which are valueless, save for what they may bring for hides and meat.

HIS VIEWPOINT

"You made me pay considerably more for this article than it is worth." "Do you really think so?" "I do. Don't you call that profiteering?" "Not when I manage it. When I do anything like that I refer to it as 'salesmanship.'"

SOUND ADVICE

"If you must be a musician, my son, learn to play the piano." "Why, father?" "Then, when you are engaged with an orchestra you can turn your back on the room and won't have to look at the dancing."

OBSERVANCE INSURED

"If I sell you a lot in this suburb you agree to build a house costing not less than $20,000."

"Yes, if that is the rule."

"And I might suggest that my own brother is an architect. He will see that you observe the rule."

THE EXPERT

"Do you understand woodcuts?" "Oh, yes. My father owns a saw-mill."

THE DIARY OF A MOVIE VILLAIN

Monday: Shot two men, poisoned a third and cracked a safe today. Spent the evening quietly at home playing with the baby.

Tuesday: Blew up a Sunday school this morning. Nothing much to do this afternoon; brained an old man, that's all. Played with the baby this evening again.

Wednesday: This morning I threw two old women into a deep well and knifed a bridegroom. Spent the afternoon trying on new mustaches and a new way of flicking the ashes from my cigarette which the director wants to try out. Played checkers with the wife in the evening.

Thursday: Broke up a happy family, abducted a young girl and got over my new cigarette flick with great success. More checkers with the wife to-night.

Friday: Slit a man's throat in the morning and kicked a boy to death this afternoon. Played with the baby again this evening.

Saturday: Nothing much doing today; murdered a few people and broke into a house and took the family jewels. Played with the baby and then played with the wife tonight. Ho, hum! This is a stale life. Guess I'll have to get into something beside the movies—something where things are not so monotonous and there's more excitement.

PREPAREDNESS

"Lend me some money. I am going to marry an heiress next week." "You'll have plenty then, count. So why borrow now?" "She'll think it extraordinary if I have no debts."
